QUILTING

TROPHY BY MCKAY & BLANTON-HUFFMAN IN MEMORY OF ELMA HAMPTON

HOW JUDGES EVALUATE YOUR QUILT PIECES

Points should have a definite point, straight lines should be straight, and curves should be smooth and rounded. Corners should meet exactly, and matched seams should match. No holes or pleats should appear where several seams come together. Stitching should be secure and thread color appropriate to the fabrics used.

FINISHING

Many types of edge finishing can be used by quilters (binding, prairie points, ruffles, pillowcase finals, etc.) but any edge treatments should be complementary to the overall design of the quilt as well as securely and accurately sewn. Batting should extend all the way to the outer edge of the binding, and no ripples, puckers or pleats should be visible where edge treatment is applied. Width of binding or other edge treatments should be consistent without distortion. If a print is used in the binding, it should not make the quilt look distorted or twisted. Embroidery, tying, embellishments, trapunto and other surface design techniques should enhance and complement design. Good craftsmanship is always important and special techniques should not affect the wearability or longevity of the item.
